

Johnathan L. Buffalo
Historic Preservation Director
Meskwaki Nation, Iowa

Meskwaki Foods

The Meskwaki utilized their environment
to the full extent
of hunting,
gathering, and agriculture.

PLANTED CROPS

Corn

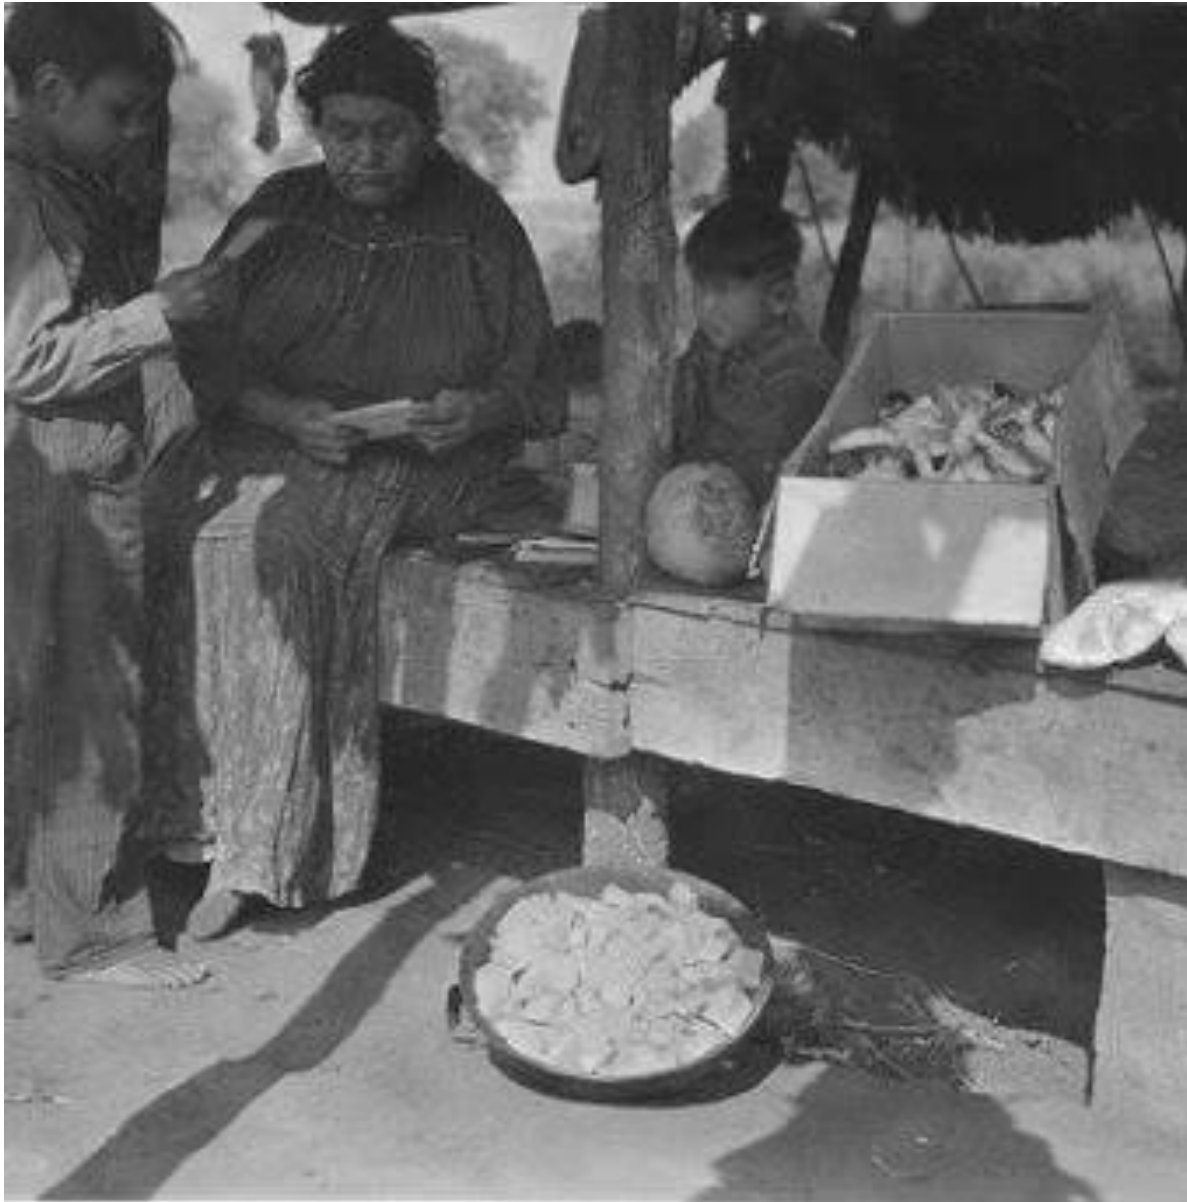

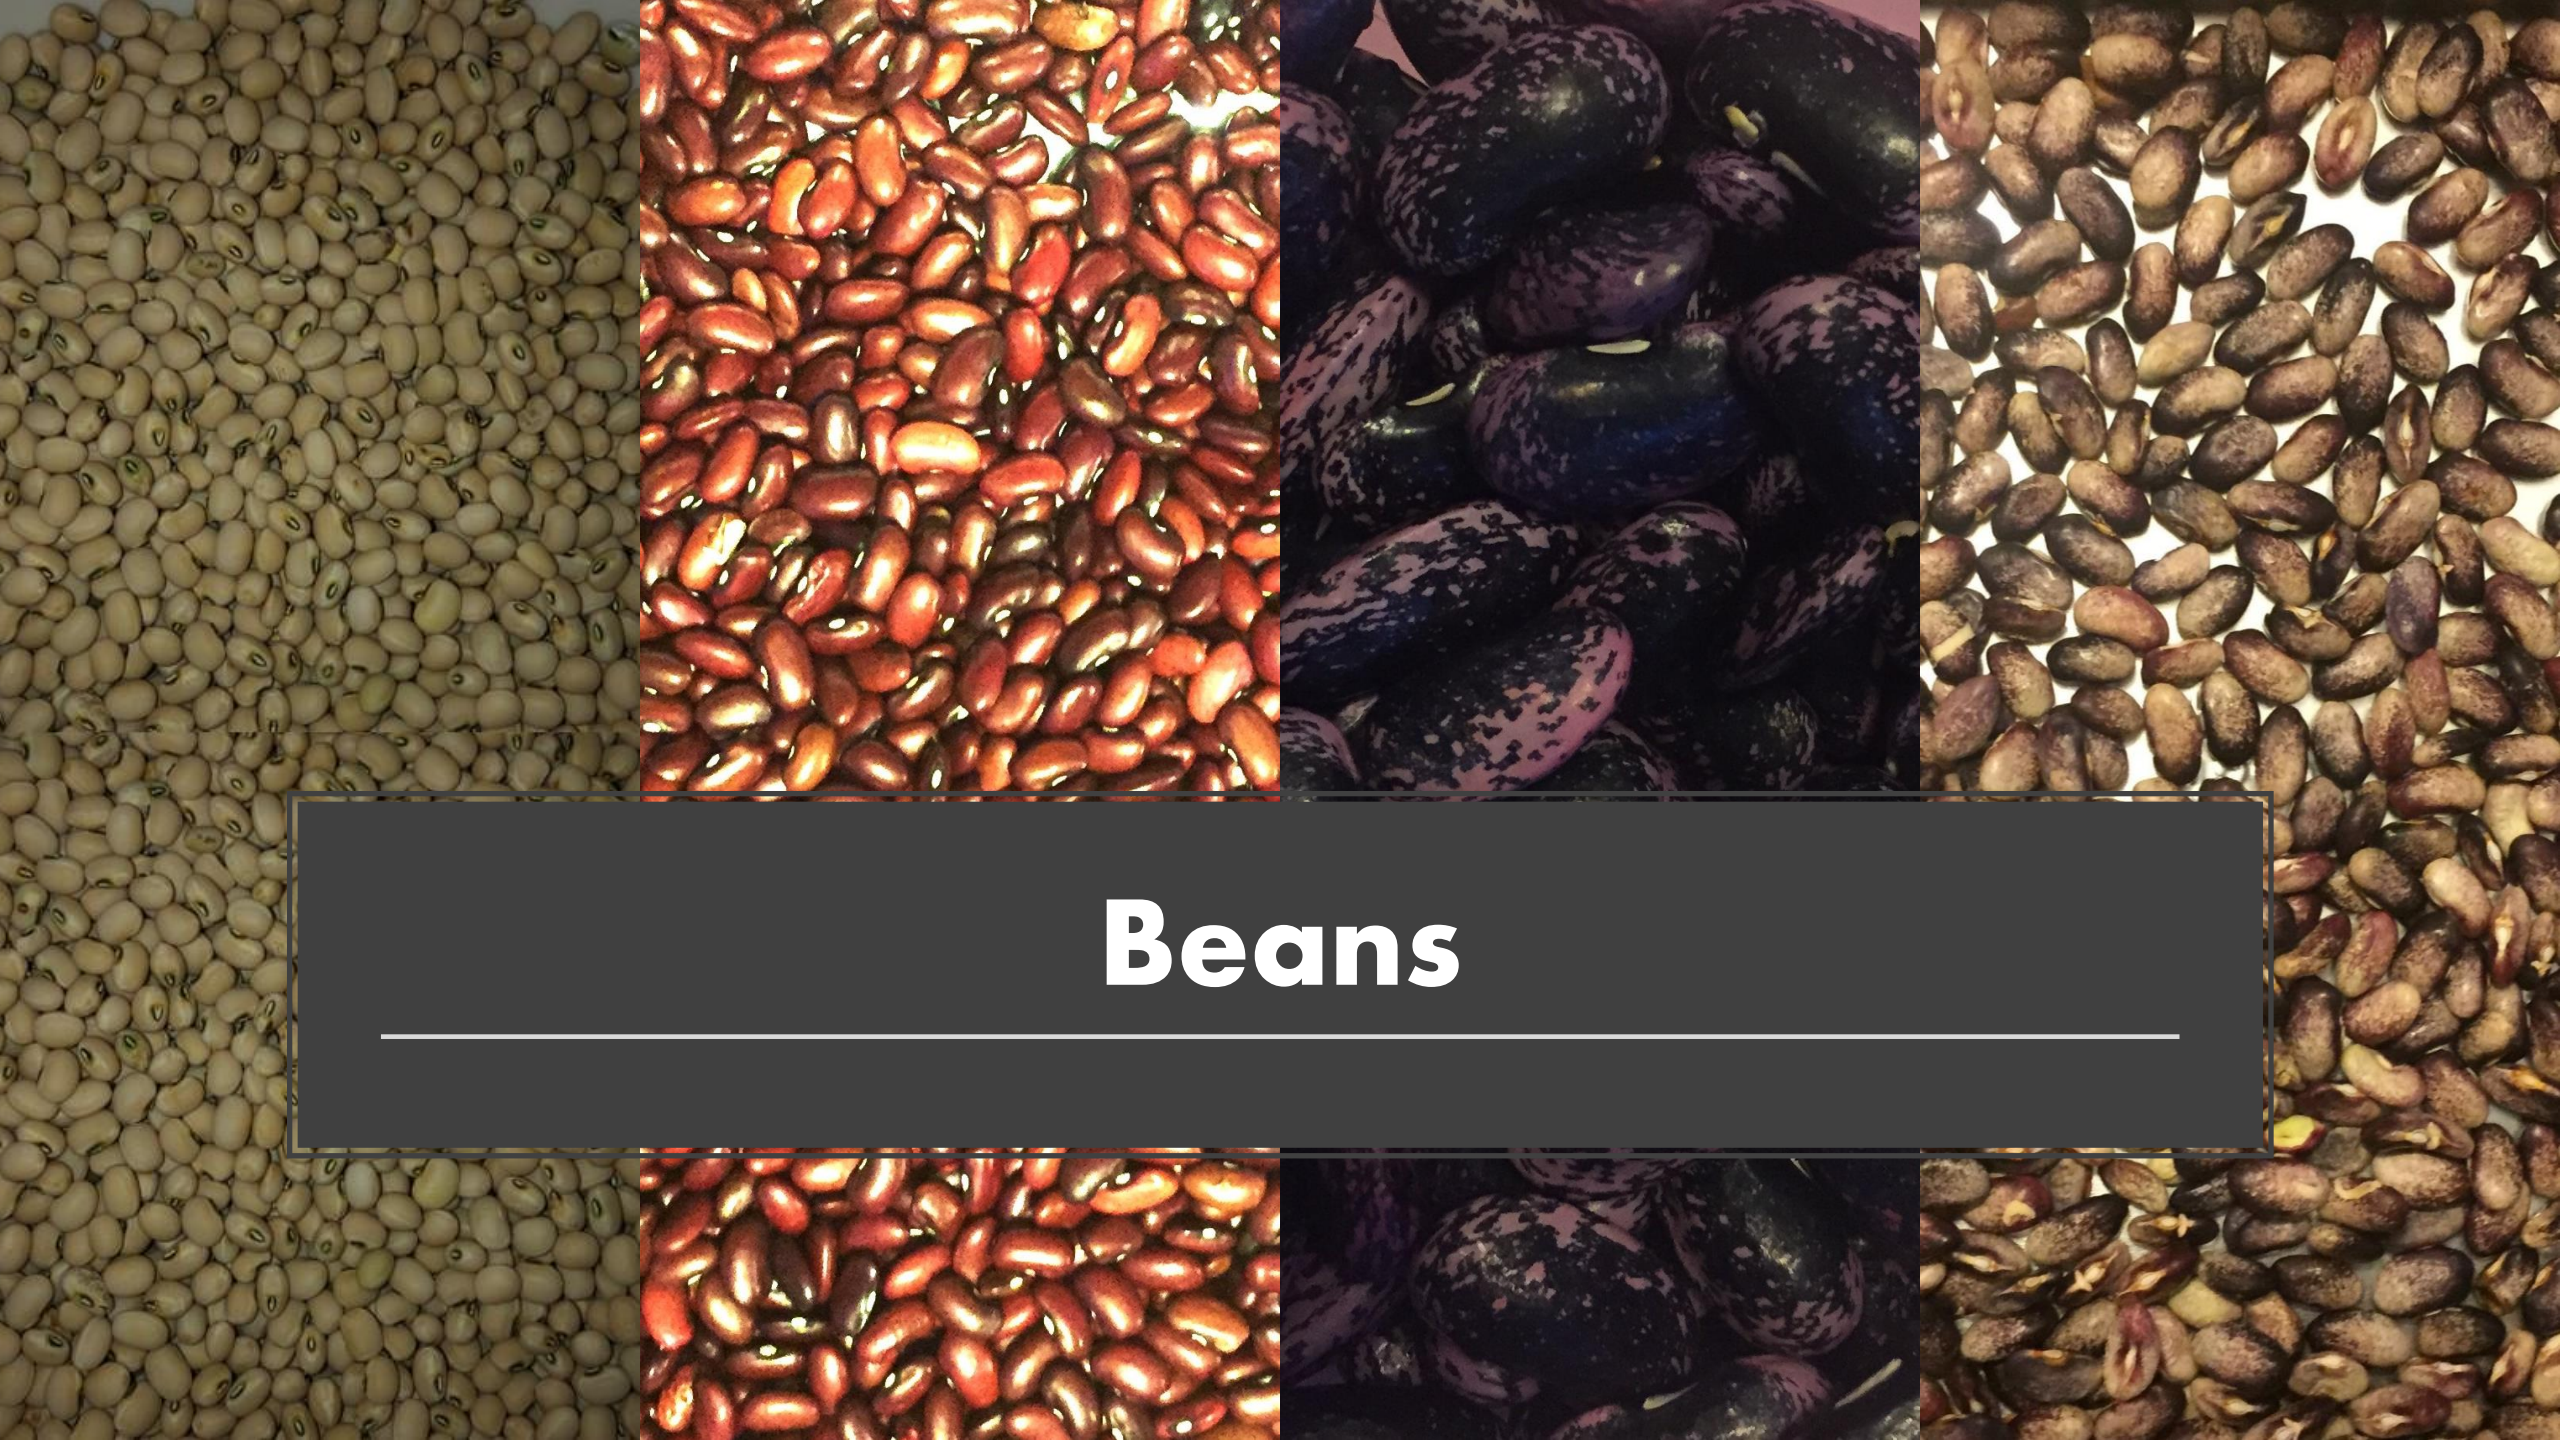

—Gazette photo by Mill Nelson

INDIAN CORN-ON-THE-COB was sampled Tuesday at the Tama Indian settlement by two extension workers from foreign lands. Trying the new taste experience were Piedra Carvalho of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (left), and Phung Hu Back of Saigon, Viet Nam. Both were observing extension methods in Tama county. Shelling out Indian corn for drying in the sun are (left to right) Mrs. Harvey Lasley, Harvey Lasley and Mrs. Adeline Wanatee, all residents at the Indian settlement.

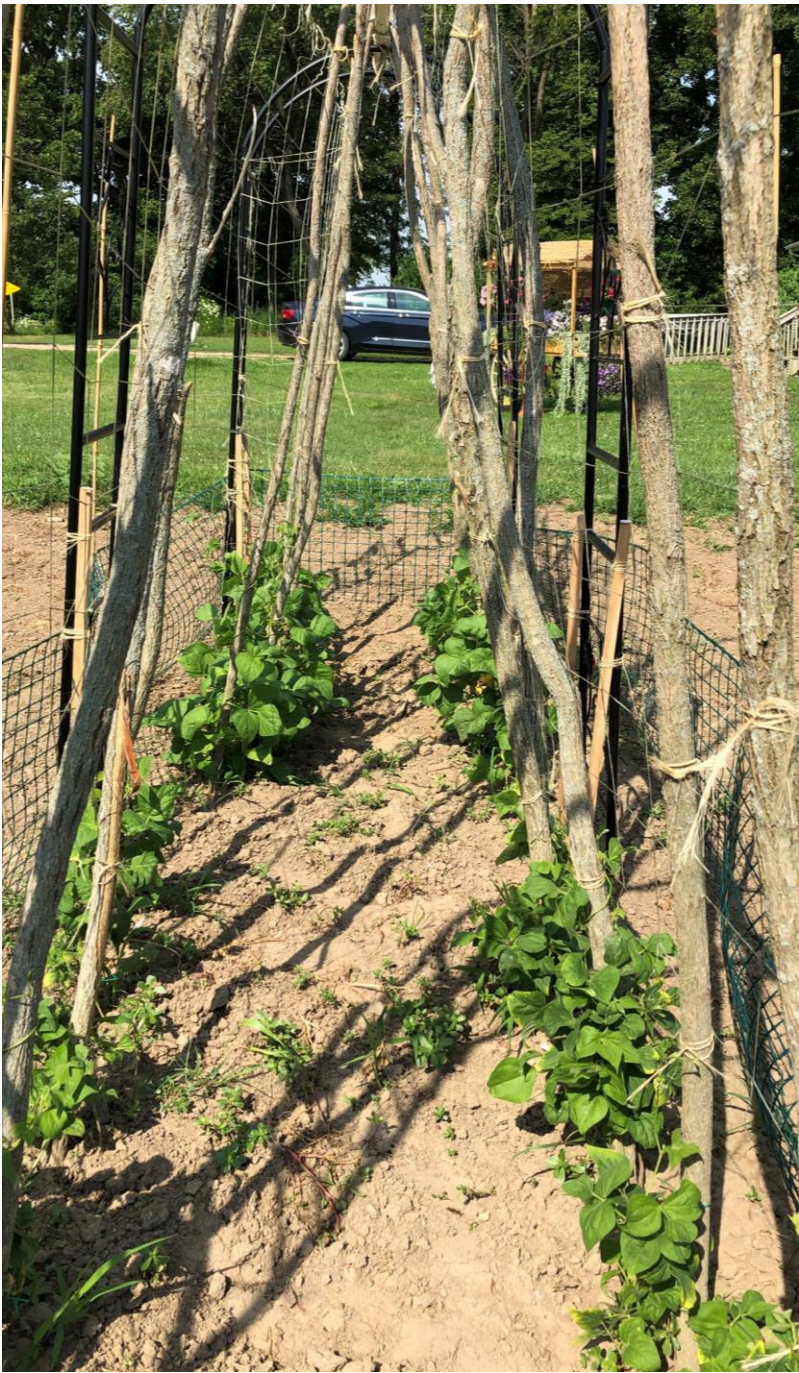

Cedar Rapids Gazette, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, US
August 29, 1962, Page 82

Beans

Squash

MUSQUAKIE MAIDEN
SMITH STUDY
MARSHALLTOWN, IA

DRYING SQUASH

drying pumpkins and
squashes for winter use

Drying in the Kitchen

.....
.....
.....
.....

.....
.....
.....

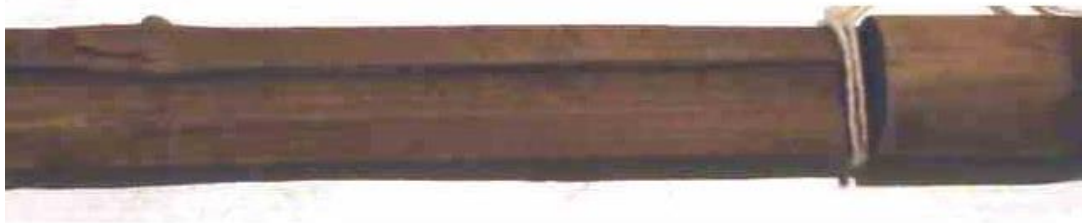

GATHERED FOODS

Maple Syrup

Milkweed

Water Potato / Lotus

Berries & Nuts

Mushrooms

Johnathan L. Buffalo
Historic Preservation Director
Meskwaki Nation, Iowa

Meskwaki Foods

Thank you for sharing your time

